

Please be advised that the GLO's physical offices are closed and nearly all GLO employees are working remotely. Pursuant to the notice posted by the Office of the Attorney General (see <https://www.texasattorneygeneral.gov/open-government/governmental-bodies/catastrophe-notice/update-calculation-business-days-and-covid-19>), the days that the physical offices of a governmental body, such as the GLO, are physically closed, even if staff is working remotely, are not business days for purposes of the Public Information Act. The GLO is still attempting to fulfill requests as promptly as possible. However, in some instances, the requested information cannot be accessed remotely and fulfillment of the request will take longer. Please continue to check this site for updates.
