

Contractors prepare the dredge pipe prior to starting the dredge.

After first starting the dredge, water is pushed through the pipe.

Close up of material being pushed through the pipe to create mound.

A spreader is placed on the end of the dredge pipe to allow material to flow in all directions from the pipe.

Completed mounds on the north side of the peninsula.

A track hoe constructs earthen berms.

A section of earthen berm

GBF staff harvesting cordgrass from NRG's Eco-Center,
Baytown, TX

The harvesting crew consisting of GBF, USFWS, and NRCS

Harvested plants loaded on boats for Marsh Mania

GBF project manager goes over Marsh Mania game plan with boat captains and team leaders.

Marsh Mania banner recognizing MM sponsors including CMP and NOAA

© Barry Armer

Plants staged and ready for volunteers to arrive.

Mounds prior to planting day of Marsh Mania

© Bill Gullledge

Volunteers begin planting at Marsh Mania.

Volunteers completing the planting of the first mound at Burnet Bay!

© Bob Dempsey

Volunteers work in pairs to plant mounds at Marsh Mania.

Marsh Mania

© Bob Dempsey

Marsh Mania

Marsh Mania

Marsh Mania

Marsh Mania

© Mark Westerman

Marsh Mania

Marsh Mania

Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

Mounds planted at Marsh Mania

After a day of planting, ITC employees proudly point to the ITC logo on the project partnership sign.

Project partnership and CMP signage placed on site.

Zoomed in aerial of the southern portion of the project showing the 19 mounds planted at Marsh Mania Event, September 19, 2009. Mounds planted M1-M16 and M18-M20

Thanks Burnet Bay Partners!

mitsui & co., ltd.

RESTORE
AMERICA'S ESTUARIES

A PROGRAM OF THE TCEQ

ecōnrg

NRCS

